

Kendall Styles, right, takes the lead en route to winning the How The West Was Won 5K in Keller on Saturday, Sept. 27. Styles, of Holiday, is a sophomore at Tarleton State in Stephenville. Fiona Green, the third runner, of Keller won the women's division. Styles said his 15:56 would be a PR if the course was correct. The course was, but he might have run a slightly shorter course because a volunteer apparently directed him to a direction that would have cut about 30 seconds off his time. The volunteer also tried to direct Fiona Green, who was in third place, the wrong direction, but she had competed in the Run In The Dark last week and this was the same course, so she knew where to go. She told the volunteer where runners were supposed to turn around. Styles didn't stay to verify whether he had obeyed the volunteer.
