

St. Paddy's Dash Down Greenville pays off in green and 2,995 finish the 5K

Kiplimo Chemirmir, runner-up in the Cowtown Marathon on Feb. 27 and third at the Little Rock Marathon on March 7, was No. 1 Saturday (March 13) at the Dash Down Greenville, crossing the finish line in 15:19. Chemirmir clipped runner-up Joshua Trevino by four seconds while David Boston, winner of the Cowtown Half Marathon, finished third in 15:52. In the women's division, D'Ann Arthur beat Sonya Correa by six seconds with a 17:49. Katie Kelley came in third at 18:12. Green was the color of the day (even though St. Patrick's Day is the 17th), especially for the top finishers. The winners received $150, runners-up $100 and third place $50. No one was able to cash in on the $250 bonuses. The first male to beat 14:20 and the first female under 17:00 would have added those greenbacks. Total number of finishers for the event was 2,995.
