

Fast times at Highland Village

While updating the Fastest Times list, I was amazed at how many fast times the Resolution Run Highland Village 5K on Jan. 16 produced. The men's race must have been quite a battle as several runners finished within the 16-minute and 17-minute range, and four of the times at 17-plus minutes were posted by 13-14-year-old runners. Joe Beisner, 37, was the overall male winner with a 15:38.6, but 17-year-old Sean Canavin was right behind at 15:43.2. They practically have dominated the Top 15 Fastest Times, though the list won't be posted until Wednesday. Other outstanding performances were posted in the female 10-younger division. Emily Heraty, 10, led the group with a 20:44.1. Four others dipped under 25 minutes. And the overall female winner was 13-year-old Sydney Brown, who finished in a speedy 18:46. Nice running. What were they serving there?
