

Putting a cap on 2010

Race director Ricky Cox points the way to participants in the New Year's Eve run at Trinity Park.

Runners take off in the New Year's Eve 5K in an afternoon run at Trinity Park in Fort Worth. At left are several of the group of runners who began the year by doing a push-up and then adding one a day. More than 100 started, but there weren't that many who finished with 365 push-ups. They, at least, had all day to finish by doing the exercises in sets.

This was the first year for the Holiday 5000 New Year's Eve 5K at Trinity Park. Winning the male division was William Hoffman in 15:51 and taking the female division was Madison Milhoan in 19:23. Photos were submitted by Movin' Pictures. More are available at the www.movin-pictures.com site.
