

Being Bold in the cold

These were two of the runners who were bold enough to show up for the LGRW Bold In The Cold 5K, 15K on Saturday morning (Jan. 10) in Grapevine. The temperature was in the mid-30s and there was a breeze to make the race live up to its name. The 5K male winner was Connor Adams in 16:51 and the women's winner was Molly Tucker in 20:20, a 12-year-old who won her first female overall trophy in her first race at the same event two years ago when she was 10 and when the weather was even worse. In the 15K, Koby Styles won the men's title in 50:38 and Fiona Green the women's in 1:04:49. Photo submitted by John Tucker..