

Not so tropical at FWRC
Tropical 10-Mile and Hawaiian 5K

One might never know that the pictures above were from the same race. Well, it was the FWRC Tropical 10-Mile and Hawaiian 5K, so maybe a few (two) runners believed in titles. But the temperature was about 37 when the race started and there were approximately 50 runners who tried to work up a sweat in the 10-mile run and about another 20 in the 5K on Sunday (Dec. 6) morning at Trinity Park in Fort Worth. Although the runner above dressed for a tropical outing, workers, spectators and others who finished their races were bundled up.. More photos are available at www.moving-pictures.com.
