

Fort Worth man wins marathon in Waco

Todd Reynolds, 39, of Fort Worth won the Miracle Match marathon on Sunday (Oct. 28) in Waco with a 2:50:28, just about a minute off his PR.

Todd, who didn't begin running until he was about 30 but who already has logged more than 40 marathons, won by almost three minutes over David Brown, who finished in 2:53:04. It is the third consecutive year someone from the D-FW area has won in Waco. Hamlin Jones of Frisco won last year and Ken Hall of Colleyville won in 2005.

Kelly Weaver won the women's division in 3:32:10.

At the Marine Corps Marathon on Oct. 28, a Keller man was the top finisher among D-FW participants and a Fort Worth woman wasn't far behind. See Side Trips.
